Biography

Andres Leon, known as NDRS, is a Venezuelan DJ and producer shaping a distinct blend of minimal house and Latin-leaning tech. Raised in Miami and now based in New York, his sound is defined by stripped-back grooves and percussive warmth, pulling from his roots while staying locked into the pulse of the underground.

From intimate rooms to larger stages, NDRS has built a reputation for reading the space and letting the groove speak. His sets are intentional and rhythm-forward — designed for the dance floor, and those who intend to stay on it.
